Transboundary European World Heritage – a Topic of the UNESCO-Project Schools

Programme of the 1st German-Czech student workshop; 24.-26 June 2019

Topic: The monuments of mining in Erzgebirge/Krušnohoří Mining Region (currently applying for inscription in the World Heritage List). The Markus-Röhling Stolln and the St. Annen-Church with the altarpiece by Hans Hesse, Annaberg-Buchholz

The workshop is being carried out by the Institute Heritage Studies (IHS) in cooperation with the coordinators for World Heritage in the Free State of Saxony, the coordinators of UNESCO Project Schools in the Czech Republic and the Free State of Saxony as well as teachers of German and Czech UNESCO Project Schools.

Background information

The workshop is the first of three binational workshops, which present the shared cultural heritage to the participating students, so that they can identify subjects that are relevant to the present and future of each cross-border site of European World Heritage. Accompanied by their teachers and professional media experts, they will use the methods of storytelling and creating educational videos. These approaches will allow them to trace their common European history as well as to develop and record common narratives for the present and the future.

Programme

(The lectures will be held in German with translation into English. Starting in the afternoon of the 24th of June the workshop will be held in English, an interpreter for English-Czech will be available.)
